

DOCTOR • WHO

THE POISON PLANET

PART THREE

Previously, in Doctor Who Adventures, the Doctor has found a mystery on Death's Door - a dead spaceman holding the ingredients for a cure to the Space Plague. The spaceman, Dr Kaleb Loss, worked for InFECT - the Institute For Exo-Contamination Treatment.

Travelling to InFECT headquarters on the planet Mustron V, the Doctor finds the dead man's colleagues in fear of their lives - a faceless spaceman is loose on the base!

Script TREVOR BAXENDALE
Art JOHN ROSS
Colours ALAN CRADDOCK
Letters PAUL VYSE

Investigating further, the Doctor and his new friend Rachel 'Red' Barlow have been thrown out of the base's airlock by someone or something!

With the antidote to the Space Plague I can save lives now - save people like my brother, prevent them from dying horribly. I'll bring health and happiness to millions.

At gunpoint?

She's right. It's not easy to save lives with a gun. But it is easy to waste them. Why don't we talk this over? And what have you done with Mick Hogan, anyway?

I'm right here, Doctor.

She knocked me out and left me in the medical lab - she blamed me for everything, said I was standing in the way of progress. Luckily Asif found me.

Oof!

Let me go!

ZOOOWP!

AARGH!

Look out!

Asif! Are you OK?

Shoulder's fused but I'll live. What's she doing, Doctor?

She's getting away, that's what she's doing.

She's got the stryntium sample, too. She'll be heading for the lab...

